Welcome

Welcome to the 42nd annual Governor’s Business Forum,

It is an absolute pleasure to host this incredible gathering of minds, visionaries, and changemakers. On behalf of the Wyoming Business Alliance and Wyoming Heritage Foundation, thank you for being part of the Forum and for all you do each and every day in your work, your partnerships, and your commitment to building a stronger future for Wyoming.

This year’s theme, The Power of Alliance: Cultivating Growth for Another 25 Years, is timely. We know that real progress does not happen easily. To cultivate growth, we need all of you; small businesses, large companies, educators, nonprofits, and communities. When you come together, we can seize the opportunities in front of us. Wyoming is a special place and this is a moment of inflection about what direction we will take.

I hope we look back at this moment and reflect that we did not miss the chance to have an impact. The agenda for this Forum is meant to showcase experiences from the last 25 years when leaders like you seized the moment and invested, but it is also meant to give us time to reflect on what is ahead. So let’s keep showing up for each other and use the network at this Forum to make sure the next 25 years are even more transformative than the last.

Thank you again for being here—we’re honored to be part of this journey with you,

Renny MacKay,

President, Wyoming Business Alliance/Wyoming Heritage Foundation

WBA’s History of Cultivating Growth - Are We Still Hungry?

Introduction by Lauren Benford

The Wyoming Business Alliance and Wyoming Heritage Foundation were founded in 1980 and have since cultivated a legacy of growth by fostering innovative ideas from the Kern River Pipeline to the first statewide economic development council. Along the way, Wyoming was asked if it was hungry enough to take on economic diversification. We harness the Power of Alliance through the insights and investments of the WBA’s Management Committee—a distinguished group representing Wyoming’s diverse economic landscape, from small enterprises to multinational corporations. Their leadership reflects the strength of collaboration across the state’s most vital industries.

WBA Welcome Back & Recap

Rebecca Rood, WBA Vice Chairwoman
Rebecca Rood, Vice Chair of the Wyoming Business Alliance (WBA), and Renny MacKay, President of the WBA, will officially kick off the final day of the Business Forum with a warm welcome and strategic overview.

8:15am

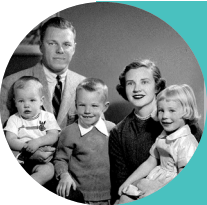

Wyoming Business Hall of Fame Class of 2025 Final Inductions

Introductions by Governor Gordon, Governor Geringer & Bill Schilling

The Governor's Business Forum proudly celebrates the final three members of this year's distinguished Business Hall of Fame class —The Wold Family, C.H. "Chuck" Brown, and Brent Hathaway. These visionary leaders have shaped Wyoming's business landscape through decades of innovation, integrity, and impact.

Inductees

The Wold Family
Congressman John and Jane Wold had three children: Peter, Jack and Priscilla. For generations they have been respected figures in Wyoming's oil and gas industry and have made lasting contributions to the state's economy through their entrepreneurial spirit, leadership, and philanthropic support of local causes. John Wold was a founding member of the Wyoming Heritage Society, which became the Wyoming Business Alliance.

C.H. Chuck Brown
C.H. "Chuck" Brown III is a longtime business owner from Wheatland. Under his leadership, C.H. Brown Company grew over several decades from a local farm implement company into an enterprise with national reach. He has influenced Wyoming's construction, infrastructure, and land development industries, and has also served on the University of Wyoming Board of Trustees, the Wyoming Business Council, and the Denver Board of the Kansas City Federal Reserve Bank.

Brent Hathaway
Brent Hathaway is a professor and former dean of UNLV's Lee Business School. He has published and presented widely about entrepreneurship, leadership, business sustainability, and the economy. Hathaway joined UNLV in 2013 from the University of Wyoming College of Business, where he served as dean for nine years. He co-founded the Wyoming Business Leadership Institute, created an online executive MBA program and college-based career center, enhanced graduate programs, grew the college's permanent endowment and increased annual student scholarship distributions from $100K to over $400K. In addition to academic leadership, he served in many executive positions and has extensive experience in the business sector.

Greg Atkin, Atkin Aviation Consulting
Air travel is essential for the business community, but as many smaller towns across the nation have lost commercial air service, new challenges and opportunities are emerging. What will air travel in Wyoming look like over the next decade? Airline expert Greg Atkin outlines what lies ahead.

9:15am

Innovation at Work: Collaboration Fuels Wyoming's Energy Leadership

President Ed Seidel, University of Wyoming
UW President Ed Seidel, UW School of Energy Resources Director Scott Quillinan and Ty Peck of Williams explore how their collaborations with the School of Energy Resources to advance efforts in carbon capture and hydrogen energy exemplifies how academic research and industry expertise can unlock new opportunities for Wyoming – positioning the state as a leader in cutting-edge energy solutions and emerging technologies.

9:45am

Economic Forecast, Beyond the Numbers

Dr. Scott Beaulier, UW College of Business
Introduction by Tyler Lindholm
Gain a deeper understanding of the forces driving Wyoming's economy in this forward-looking session. The Dean of the UW College of Business will share expert analysis on key trends and projections impacting the state, and Renny MacKay will offer reflections from the 2025 Voices of Business listening tour. Together, they will highlight the power of collaboration in navigating challenges, identifying opportunities, and cultivating sustainable growth.

10:15am

Mental Health: Business is Shifting the Culture Around Mental Health — Is it Enough?

Introduction by Samin Dadelahi

As the search for talent grows more complex, the well-being of Wyoming's workforce has never mattered more. Thanks to efforts led by former WBA President Cindy DeLancey—like launching the in-state 988 hotline—mental health is a growing part of the conversation. But the journey isn't over. This session explores how businesses can break down stigma and build a culture to retain a sustainable workforce.

11:00am

Governor Mark Gordon: Wyoming at a Crossroads. What is an Essential Budget?

Keynote

Wyoming's 33rd Governor Mark Gordon
Introduction by Rebecca Rood
Governor Mark Gordon will outline economic growth policy and opportunities for Wyoming citizens — families, young people, seniors, and future generations — to thrive. A lifelong Wyoming rancher, businessman, and public servant, the governor will share a vision for maintaining the state's unique culture while growing an exceptional standard of living through innovative educational opportunities, energy sector dominance, mental wellness, healthcare and career creation. The Governor believes in empowering local communities, businesses, and families. Consistently ranked among the top four governors nationwide, Governor Gordon continues to ride for the brand.

Governor Mark Gordon
Wyoming's 33rd Governor

The Wyoming Business Alliance and Wyoming Heritage Foundation thank Governor Gordon for his dedication to the people of Wyoming and its business community.

Visionary Voice

He was sworn into office on January 7, 2019, and re-elected on November 8, 2022, with 79% of the vote, the largest win of any gubernatorial candidate in Wyoming history and the largest margin of any gubernatorial candidate in the nation in 2022.

Mark Gordon grew up on the family ranch in Kaycee, Wyoming, where he learned the values of hard work, integrity, and the importance of working together. As Governor, he brings those values to the table, maintaining his commitment to a Wyoming where her citizens can pursue their dreams while the state retains her unique character. He strongly believes that Wyoming must chart its own course and is a steadfast defender of its interests to do so.

As a conservative, Governor Gordon has worked tirelessly to set Wyoming on a sustainable fiscal path. He is committed to making government more transparent, accessible, productive, and efficient. He believes government is best when it is closest to the people and is committed to giving local communities the tools they need to thrive. He is a staunch advocate of quality education in all modes, public and private, and for all children.

Governor Gordon served as Wyoming State Treasurer from October 2012 until January 2019, when he was sworn in as Governor. During his time in office, he was ranked in the top 100 “most significant and impactful public investor executives.” In addition, under his guidance, Wyoming’s sovereign funds earned a No.1 ranking for the United States and No.3 in the world for transparency by the Peterson Institute.

First elected Governor in 2018, he successfully led Wyoming through some historically difficult times.

Consistently rated as one of the top ten governors in the country, he has spearheaded efforts to diversify Wyoming’s economy from technology and finance to agriculture, energy, research, and tourism. He and his wife, Jennie, are dedicated to making Wyoming the best place to raise a family.

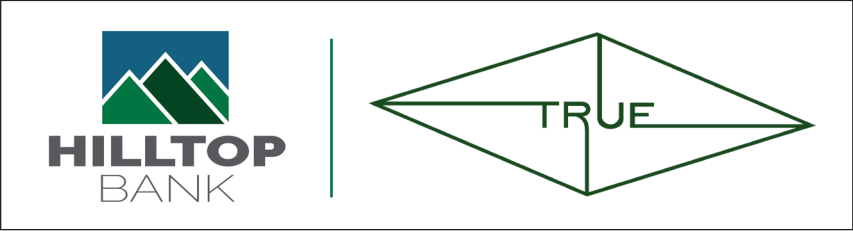

Shortly after becoming First Lady, Jennie called on her upbringing and management acumen as a rancher and mother to establish the Wyoming Hunger Initiative, which has meant so much for many in Wyoming suffering from food insecurity.

Governor Gordon and Jennie enjoy spending time with their children and grandchildren.
